BORONIA GARDENS VILLAGE

Downsizing your home is only the beginning

Boronia Gardens Village is a boutique residential village located in the centre of Albany, WA. The central location of the village coupled with secure, low maintenance home designs will improve and reinvigorate your lifestyle without sacrificing your independence. Free from the hassles of maintaining a large property with the added ease of access to amenities means residents of Boronia Gardens Village have more time to spend the way they choose.

All homes are securely located within a gated community, allowing residents peace of mind should they choose to adventure out of town or visit 'the kids' in the city. The friendly and welcoming community at Boronia Gardens Village regularly enjoy a number of social activities and look out for one another in a friendly and nurturing environment.
